

Prof. Ramesh Chand, Honourable Member of Niti Aayog, New Delhi Visited Advanced Research Centre for Bamboo and Rattan

Prof. Ramesh Chand, Honourable Member of Niti Aayog, New Delhi visited Advanced Research Centre for Bamboo and Rattan (ARCBR), Bethlehem Vengthlang on 22 April 2016. He was accompanied with Sh. Jitendra Kumar, IFS, Adviser, Niti Aayog along with the Officer on Special Duty, Sh. Umakant, IFS and other senior forest officers of Mizoram forest department.

Honourable member interacted with the scientists of ARCBR and had a look on the infrastructure and the research activities of the centre. He also visited different research laboratories of the centre. While discussing with the scientists of the centre, he expressed his view that this centre has very good infrastructure and has a good potential to carry out research on environment and forestry sector in the state.

At last, Sh. Hans Raj, Scientist – C and in charge of ARCBR thanked the honourable member for his visit and valuable suggestions.

GLIMPSES OF VISIT

